Project HELP is an initiative of WMU which identifies a critical issue and then ties in national projects to help address it.

With increases in school shooting, the prevalence of natural disasters, and veterans returning from war, our society is keenly aware of the suffering produced by trauma causing Post-traumatic Stress Disorder (PTSD). During the years 2014-2018, WMU will explore Post-traumatic Stress Disorder, a diagnosable mental disorder. Some key facts about PTSD will be our topic for the next three months.
