This is probably not the place to do this, but I wanted to thank you for the movie "The Resurrection of Gavin Stone".

I am [REDACTED] years old, accepted Christ at 18, go to church every week and yet this movie touched me deeply. I don't tend to watch Christian films, they seem cheesy to me (sorry). I watched this one because Brett Dalton was in it and I enjoyed in Agents of Shield. I watched this movie and I cried. I don't cry at movies, ever really. The next morning I watched it again and cried again. I repeated this for about a week. Somehow this movie helped me to not give up and walk away from church or God. I am a transgender male and honestly society says I am not worth it. This movie helped me to turn more to God, to read scripture and to truly worship Him. I have gained a deeper appreciation for God, His love for us as His children and in our Savior Jesus Christ. So I wanted to send you this late night message to tell you that what you do is worth it because it helped at least one person more than you could ever know. It helped me.

Thank you again,
[REDACTED]
