

The background of the slide is a blue-toned landscape. In the foreground, there are dark, silhouetted plants. In the middle ground, there are rolling hills or mountains. In the sky, there is a bright, multi-pointed star or cross-like light source. The text "Christmas at Adventure" is written in a large, elegant, cursive script across the top half of the image.

The background of the image is a deep blue night sky filled with numerous small, distant stars. A single, exceptionally bright star with a prominent white and yellow core and radiating light rays is positioned in the upper center. Below the star, a dark silhouette of a city skyline with various domes and towers is visible against the horizon. The foreground consists of dark, rolling hills. A large, white-outlined rectangular box is centered in the middle of the image, containing the title text. The box is flanked by several vertical white bars of varying heights on both sides.

THE PROPHECY OF JESUS' BIRTH

“Jesus endured a human birth to give us a new spiritual birth. He occupied a stable that we might occupy a mansion. He had an earthly mother so that we might have a heavenly Father. He became subject so that we might be free. He left his glory to give us glory. He was poor that we might be rich. He was welcomed by shepherds at His birth whereas we at our birth are welcomed by angels. He was hunted by Herod that we might be delivered from the grasp of Satan. That is the great paradox of the Christmas story. It is that which makes it irresistibly attractive. It is the reversal of roles at God’s cost for our benefit.”
