From the Pastor

As the Fall Season begins, I hope you will make time for discipleship and fellowship on Sunday evenings. Beginning this weekend, we will have numerous discipleship studies beginning at 5:00 pm. I hope you and your family will participate. We have something for every age and stage of life. Let us know you are coming for the meal that happens around 6:15, followed by some round-table fellowship, and a little teaching time. It will be a great time together!

My personal reading time led me to Proverbs 17. Verse 6 caught my eye! “Grandchildren are the crown of old men, and the glory of sons is their fathers.” This proverb speaks to the interdependence of generation. Those who are older develop a sense of pride for their descendants, and children gain their self-worth from parents. Conversely, one generation can cause shame and a sense of worthlessness in another. In a multigenerational church like IBC, we have the opportunity to be grateful, respectful, and responsible for other generations present and a part of the body of our church. My prayer is we would continue to edify each other, regardless of generation.

I'm looking forward to Sunday! God is speaking loudly in His word this week. Bring friends and family...all generations are welcome!

Blessed!

Bro. Tommy
